About the Dr. Richard Barnett Foundation

The DRBF is a non-profit organization whose goal is to provide higher-education scholarships and internship opportunities to motivated New York City youth with incredible potential but limited financial resources. Through extensive educational, mental health and mentorship programming, the DRBF strives to inspire our youth to chase their dreams and to empower them with the resources and support they need to get there.

Education should never be a dream deferred – we're stronger, smarter and better TOGETHER. In ways big and small, we can make these dreams a reality.
